Dear friends of Chants Libres,

Year after year, we build a new space, lay down a new stratum of creation, at first imperceptible, fragile, delicately placed, but that builds strength and conviction over time. A new work is born. Chants Libres is a tool, which we like to believe is free and powerful, made available to composers and creators from all disciplines, to serve new forms of opera. So that this freedom remains, so that this faith in creation remains effective and solid, we need your help more than ever.

Our next major production, L'orangerie, composed by Zad Moultaqa to a libretto by Larry Tremblay, is under development. To help make this event a complete artistic success, we are offering a gift to match your contribution: an excerpt from the L'orangerie libretto printed on parchment paper or in digital version, written and signed by Larry Tremblay.

On behalf of all the artists, a huge thank you for your gesture of encouragement.

Treat yourself: get an excerpt from the libretto by Larry Tremblay

Excerpt 1 Le paradis

Five originals
numbered 1 to 5
printed on parchment
(9 x 11 in.)

Le paradis est fait d'eau, de sol, de ciel
Et d'un regard que rien n'arrête.
Le regard est la matière secrète de l'espace.
Ne le tuez jamais.

Larry Tremblay

Excerpt 2 La guerre

Five originals
numbered 1 to 5
printed on parchment
(9 x 11 in.)

Même la guerre,
on ne peut pas l'expliquer
quand elle tue des enfants.

Larry Tremblay

Excerpt 3 La paix

Three originals
numbered 1 to 3
printed on parchment
(9 x 11 in.)

Je te parle avec de la paix
dans ma poche.

Larry Tremblay
